Product Characteristics

These Structured Products („Certificates“ / „Products“) are financial instruments which comprise a long (buy-) and short (sell-) position. The investor can realise due to a Leverage a disproportionate profit as long as the performance of Underlying 1 (long) outperforms Underlying 2 (Short), but also disproportionately reflect the Outperformance of Underlying 2 over Underlying 1 realising a loss. This Product is aimed at investors who are looking for an out-performance of Underlying 1 (Long Position) over Underlying 2 (Short Position).

Pay-off-Chart on the Maturity Date

Rollover of Underlying 2 (short leg)

The Generic Front Month Future refers to the next expiring future contract. The contracts are substituted every three months one trading day before the first notice day of the current Generic Front Month Future contract by the next contract (Rollover).

Rollover Adjustments: The Reference Level of the Underlying will be adjusted by the Rollover Spread upon every Rollover. The Rollover Spread will be calculated based on the execution level.

Rollover Spread: The difference between the Reference Level of the current Generic Front Month Future and the Reference Level of the subsequent Generic Front Month Future.

Rollover Costs: Cumulated Rollover Spreads since inception.

The investor bears the Rollover Costs arising from the adjustments of the Reference Level or any other costs arising from the short position.

Leverage Effect

Any changes in the value of the Underlying will, depending on the leverage (see above), have a disproportionate effect on the value of the Certificate. This is the leverage effect. The leverage facility is designed as dynamic and may be adjusted periodically based on the performance of the Reference Underlying. The leverage effect results from an investment made by the Issuer for the benefit of the investor. The financing costs are added to the Leverage Facility and as a consequence are deducted from the Price of the Certificate on an ongoing basis.

Redemption

Each holder of a Certificate qualifies for redemption by the Issuer in accordance with the following redemption scenarios:

Scenario 1

If the value of the Certificate never reaches the Stop Loss Limit during its term, the Certificate will be redeemed on the Redemption Date according to the following formula:

$$CV_t = UL1_t + LF_t + PLUL2_t$$

whereas:

CV_t Certificate Value on date t

$UL1_t$ Value of Underlying 1 on date t

LF_t Leverage Facility on date t

$PLUL2_t$ Unrealized profits/losses of the short position of Underlying 2 on date t (can be a positive or negative number)

On Fixing Date, $CV_0 = UL1_0 + LF_0 + PLUL2_0$

$CV_0 = \text{USD } 10,000$

$PLUL2_0 = \text{USD } 0$

Value of Underlying 1: On any date t between and including the Fixing Date and the Maturity Date, the Value of Underlying 1 per Certificate is:

$$UL1_t = NUL1_t \times VUL1_t$$

Whereas:

$NUL1_t$ Number of certificate units of Underlying 1 on date t

$VUL1_t$ Latest estimated or final value for one unit of Underlying 1 on date t

On Fixing Date,

$UL1_0 = D \times IE1_0 \times IW1$, where $IE1_0$ is the Initial Exposure of Underlying 1 and $IW1$ is the Individual Weight of Underlying 1.

$UL1_0 = \text{USD } 20,000$.

$$NUL1_0 = \frac{UL1_0}{VUL1_0}$$

Exposure of Underlying 2: On any date t between and including the Fixing Date and the Maturity, the Exposure of Underlying 2 equals the notional amount of the currently held futures contracts per Certificate:

$$UL2_t = NFC_t \times FCV_t$$

Whereas:

NFC_t Number of futures contracts of Underlying 2 on date t

FCV_t Notional value of the futures contract of Underlying 2 held on date t

On Fixing Date,

$UL2_0 = D \times IE2_0 \times IW2$, where $IE2_0$ is the Initial Exposure of Underlying 2 and $IW2$ is the Individual Weight of Underlying 2.

$UL2_0 = \text{USD } -20,000$

$$NFC_0 = \frac{UL2_0}{FCV_0}$$

Initial Leverage Facility: $LF_0 = CV_0 - UL1_0 = \text{USD } -10,000$

Leverage Facility: Initial Leverage Facility – interest accrued using the Refinancing Rate (accrued and compounded at the Refinancing Rate since the Fixing Date) + accumulated realized gains/losses of the short position of Underlying 2 (can be a positive or negative number)*.

*Any realized profits/losses of Underlying 2 (after each Rollover) will be credited/debited. Any transaction and/or roll-over cost (i.e. spread) of Underlying 2, accrued since the Fixing Date, will be deducted. Any negative carry, e.g. from dividends or any other costs arising from the short position, accrued since the Fixing Date, will have a negative impact.

Scenario 2

If during the term the value of the Certificate ever reaches or falls below the Stop Loss Limit during the official trading hours of one of the Underlying, the Certificate will automatically be prematurely terminated and redeemed by cash payment of the Early Redemption Amount for value five Business Days after the day of the automatic premature termination. Upon premature termination of the Certificate, the Issuer starts liquidating its hedging positions in the Underlying and the investor will, for each Certificate, be cash redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount calculated on the basis of the net unwind prices and the financing costs. The Early Redemption Amount has a value higher or equal to Zero.

Value of the Certificate

The Value of the Certificate is calculated on the basis of the net purchase prices, the current interests and the financing costs. During the trading hours of the Certificate, the Value of the Certificate equals the bid price which the Lead Manager as market maker of the Certificate publishes on the SIX Swiss Exchange. However, the Value of the Certificate is also calculated outside the trading hours of the Certificate. Accordingly, the Value of the Certificate may also reach or fall below the Stop Loss Limit outside the trading hours of the Certificate (see Scenario 2).

Taxation

Stamp duties	Secondary market transactions of the Product are not subject to Federal turnover tax.
Withholding tax	No Swiss withholding tax.
Income tax	For Swiss income tax purposes, this Product qualifies as pure derivative financial instrument. For individuals residing in Switzerland and holding the Product as private asset, any gain realized with the Product is in principle classified as tax free private capital gain.

The aforementioned taxes are valid at the time of launch of this issue. The relevant tax laws or regulations of the tax authorities may change at any time. Prospects of Profit and Loss

The Certificate is based on an expectation of the Investor that Underlying 1 will outperform Underlying 2 on a percentage basis and with an account of the currency of the Certificate. Should, contrary to this expectation, Underlying 2 outperform (in terms of the currency of the Certificate) Underlying 1, the investor will incur losses. Possible profits due to the performance of one Underlying can be offset and even rendered null by the reverse performance of the other Underlying. Investment in the Certificate involves correspondingly higher leverage risks, compared to risks associated with direct investment in the Underlying. Investors should be fully aware of the risks associated with disproportionate developments in the value of the Certificate.

The Certificate will expire immediately after the value of the Certificate has reached the Stop Loss Limit (see Scenario 2). The Stop Loss Limit does not offer capital protection; it only protects against the structural increase of losses in normal market conditions. A total loss is therefore possible if the performance of the Underlying develops significantly adversely after reaching the Stop Loss Limit.

This risk disclosure is not exhaustive. It cannot identify all product-specific risks. The investor is therefore advised to consult its client advisor regarding product-specific risks, and to peruse the "Risk Factors" section of the Program Documentation.

Significant Risks for Investors

1. Issuer Risk

Unlike in a collective investment scheme, investors in structured products are not protected by a segregated pool of assets upon the Issuer's bankruptcy. Accordingly, the investment instrument's value is not only dependent on the development of the Underlying or values covered by the Underlying, but also on the credit-worthiness of the Issuer, which may vary over the term of the structured product. In case of the issuer's insolvency or bankruptcy the investors in structured products may lose their entire investment. This Product is a direct, unconditional and unsecured obligation of the Issuer and ranks equally with all other direct, unconditional and unsecured obligations of the Issuer.

2. Risks of Derivative Products

Derivative products are complex financial instruments, may therefore involve a high degree of risk and are intended for use only by sophisticated investors who are capable of understanding and assuming the risks involved. Before entering into any transaction, an investor should determine if this Product is suitable with regards to the particular circumstances and should independently assess (together with the client advisor) the specific risks as described under "Product Risks" and any other legal, regulatory or credit consequences. The Issuer makes no representation as to the suitability or appropriateness of this Product for any particular investor. This document does not replace a personal discussion with your client advisor, which is tailored to your requirements, investment objectives, experience, knowledge and circumstances and which is recommended by the Issuer before the investment decision. Please ask your client advisor about supporting information regarding this Product such as the Programme Documentation.

Futures: During the term and upon maturity, the performance of the Product does not necessarily reflect the price development of the commodities represented by the futures. As future-contracts are "rolled over" (replacement of an expiring contract by a new contract) periodically to avoid a physical delivery of the commodities, rollover losses occur especially in "contango markets" (market rate lower than forward rate) (also in "backwardation markets" in case of short positions), which have a negative impact on the value of the Product. In addition, price movements at the international futures markets may be limited by daily price/trading limits by the futures exchanges. If the bid or ask prices are higher or lower than the limit, trading may be temporarily suspended. Further position limits set by supervisory authorities may limit the number of contracts that can be held by market participants for speculative reasons. Price/trading limits and position limits may have implications for the ability to trade the Product on the secondary market, which can influence the value of the Product in a negative way.

Structured Products: Owning this Product is not the same as owning the Underlying or values covered by the Underlying. Accordingly, changes in the market value of the Underlying or the values covered by the Underlying may not result in a comparable change in the market value of the Product. Further, commissions, fees and other remunerations may reduce the actual market value. The trading market may be volatile and adversely impacted by many events which may include, but are not limited to, political events, corporate actions and macro-economic factors.

Price fixing: The market value of the Underlying may be fixed outside the trading hours of the relevant stock exchange. The investor must be aware that the market value of the Underlying determined outside the trading hours of the relevant stock exchange can be subject to great volatility.

Secondary Market: Trading of the Product may be limited despite a possible listing. Investors must also be aware of the spread risk. This means that during the term of the Product, bid and offer prices may possibly differ to a greater or lower extent. Although the Lead Manager intends to provide market making subject to normal market conditions, he is not obliged to do so. Further the investor may only be able to sell its Product in the secondary market at a lower price than the original purchase price.

Early Redemption: The investors must be aware of a possible early redemption of the Product. The Issuer has the right in the case of an extraordinary event to call the Products for settlement, provided that the Issuer will use such efforts as it reasonably deems practical to preserve the value of, or provide reasonable value for, the Product.

Currency Risk: The investor may be exposed to a currency risk, if the Underlyings are denominated in other currencies than the nominal of the Product or the Product is denominated in another currency than that of the country in which the investor is resident. The investment is therefore exposed to currency fluctuations and may increase or decrease in value.

Further Information: For further details on Product related risks please consult the risk disclosure brochure "Special Risks in Securities Trading" (Edition 2008) which is available on the Swiss Bankers Association's website: www.swissbanking.org/en/home/shop.htm or may be obtained from your client advisor upon request.

2. Conflicts of Interest

Bank Julius Baer & Co. Ltd. and affiliated companies may from time to time enter into transactions for their own account or for the account of a client that are related to the Product. These transactions may not be intended for the benefit of the investor and may have positive or negative effects on the Underlying(s) or values covered by the Underlying and thus on the value of the Product. Companies affiliated to the Issuer may also become counterparties in hedging transactions. Accordingly, conflicts of interest may therefore arise with regard to obligations relating to the ascertainment of the values of the Product and other related valuations both among the companies affiliated to the Issuer and between these companies and the investors. In such events, Bank Julius Baer & Co. Ltd. will devote its best efforts to provide fair treatment of such conflicts.
